The CT-650 Computer-Trainer

For the first time, busy executives and other key personnel can understand and master the intricacies of data-processing systems, on a desk-size, fully operable digital computer trainer.

The CT-650 will answer many often-heard questions that perplex the modern businessman.

"What can a computer do?"

"How does a computer 'think'?"

"Will this machine ever replace me?"

It is the only "Computer" in its price range that can perform intricate, logical operations common to all digital computers. The CT-650 can be used by anyone who has a basic knowledge of everyday arithmetic. It adds, subtracts, multiplies, divides, does square root and performs simple tasks and even the most complex ones in data processing and computer mathematics. However, since the operations are manually switched rather than transistor-manipulated, the cyclical speed is reduced to a rate at which one can understand and absorb the operation.

A durable, maintenance-free instrument, the Computer Trainer demonstrates all the functions of a larger, very expensive system, showing intricate nuances enabling the user actually to operate and program a real digital computer. The console is desk-top size and portable. 54x22x10". NB26. (65 lbs.) 750.00

A Ten Year Subscription for The Old Farmer's Almanac for $5.00

The famous Old Farmer's Almanac will be mailed beginning with the 1968 Edition which marks the 176th anniversary of this fascinating booklet, a by-word, and conversation piece which has been in continuous print since 1792

At that time, Washington was President; there were thirteen states. Then, as now the Almanac format was much the same: weather forecasts (usually right), tides, moon phases, axioms, quotations, facts, fancy, fun. 152 pages chock-full.

We will begin mailing the subscription immediately upon receipt of your order, or at any time thereafter you designate, and then continue every year until 1977 when we will mail the 1978 issue.

Your recipient will be reminded of you throughout ten years by this reference book which can be used constantly throughout the year.

Ten Year Subscription for Old Farmer's Almanac, (postage free) within the USA and possessions. A wonderful, thoughtful gift, we think for 5.00

The 1968 Edition will be mailed immediately upon receipt of your order, or at any date you wish.

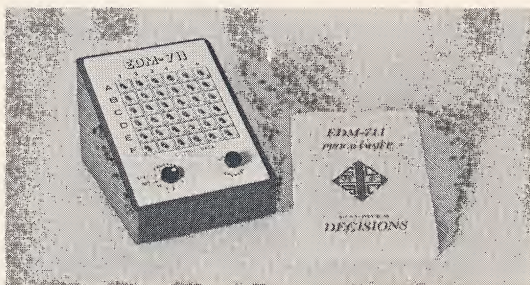

A Dilemma is a necessary choice between equally undesirable alternatives and all Dilemmas have two horns. Lots of persons find themselves seated on one horn of a Dilemma and, to make hash out of a metaphor, the grass always looks greener on the other.

But now we've got everything fixed. This is our decision contraption—The Dilemma Dispenser. It's transistorized, battery-operated and you can take it with you. Turn it on any time; dial your problem, throw away apprehension, watch the lights and, presto! Your decision is made for you.

After all, when you come to think of it, decisions are very hard to come by. This machine is designed primarily to speed up and perfect the process of Dilemma

The EDM - 711 Dilemma Dispenser

By Invento.

Ducking. Contemplating this process, one finds it consists of the following steps: 1) Perception, 2) Conception, 3) Investigation, 4) Deliberation, 5) Selection, 6) Promulgation. Then, the remaining 3 steps are up to you: 1) Actuation, 2) Supervision, 3) Adjudication. The machine accomplishes the first 6 steps by almost instantaneous digestion. You can take your time on the last three.

Accompanying the machine is a book called the "EDM-711 Programmer". After the machine renders a "read-out" number then one refers to the Programmer to get his decision.

If the decision doesn't seem to be quite what you expected, at least, you've got a decision and you can get over to the greener horn. NB46. (6 lbs.). . . 25.00

CARD SHUFFLER. Insert cards in the side slots. Press the button; the cards are shuffled, automatically. Complete with 2 batteries and 2 decks of giant faced cards, and leather like case. By Invento. N375. (5 lbs.) 13.50

THE NOTHING BOX. This box does something. It blinks and that's all. Try it on your desk. You'll find people thinking you've got a compact computer, a spy-system, signals from one of your Conflict of Interest firms. Let us warn you that unless you use an axe you can't turn it off. It will keep on winking its 8 eyes in no recognizable pattern and for no apparent reason for nearly a year. Then it's dead as a mackerel and you can't get it fixed. If you get sore at it, turn it to the wall. The Nothing Box, complete with an amusing piece of copy. NSB. (6 lbs.) 25.00

TRIPTIC. Three dimensional checkers, sophisticated Tic-Tac-Toe...the old games just aren't what they used to be, the old simplicity is gone. Now they're intricate, challenging. Clear lucite plateaus with 28 colored marbles. By Invento. N911. (1 lb.) 10.00

SCHMECKENBECKER SCHNITZEL BANK. That's what we call this thing. Put a coin on the top, immediately the box begins to move, a hand mysteriously emerges, snatches the coin and disappears—coin and all. Wonderful way to save money and amuse all. By Invento. N123. (2 lbs.) 5.50

PICNICA. A bicycle that looks just like a regular 26", lightweight bicycle...but it folds up. This compact bike may be taken almost anywhere; stores easily where space is a problem. Has extra powerful coaster brake, leather saddle, chrome-plated chain guard, rims, fenders, kick stand and storage stand. Comes in metallic blue. Z771. (Exp.) 75.00

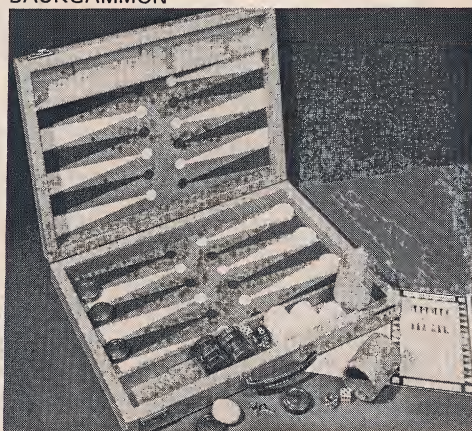

BUMPER POOL. Versatile, attractive addition to the game room or den. With the top on, it's a dandy desk, hobby or work table; without, it's bumper pool. 47x31x31" high. Heavy vinyl wood grain top. Complete with leg levelers, cues, balls. ZBD21. (Exp.) 129.95

BACKGAMMON. Folding backgammon set with rigid cups. 1 1/4" finger-grooved Catalin men and four Catalin dice with a doubler. All in a beige linen case. Closed, 21x14 1/2x3 1/2". Easy to store, quick to set up. N1117. (10 lbs.) 40.00

Thoughts for Food

SCOTTISH SMOKED SALMON. Ensconced on our salmon board. According to most connoisseurs, this Salmon is the finest procurable, and not without reason. Not only is the quality of the fish, killed in Scottish waters superb but also the hand-tending it receives all the way from river to table, makes it unique.

Where else would one take the trouble to age and blend wood chips for perfect smoking. The fish is never frozen, it is smoked fresh and very lightly salted. It is recommended that the fish be served about five days after it has been received. This is possible, for the fish is in New York 18 hours after leaving Scotland. If the salmon is bound for other cities it is readdressed at JFK airport and hastened on its way. The fish should be sliced almost flat and as paper-thin as possible. The slices should be eaten at room temperature. Some chefs garnish it with chopped onion, egg yolk and capers. Our own favorite recipe is a light dusting of freshly ground Javanese Pepper and a few drops of lemon. Delivery anywhere in the U.S. prepaid. Without board. Guarantee at least 6 lbs. Salmon. 55.00

SALMON BOARD. Hardwood set in a yard long silvered salmon. N179. (Exp.) 40.00

Tiger Meat in Supreme sauce, 4 1/2 ozs., Elephant Meat in Provincial sauce, 10 ozs. and Diamondback Rattlesnake with Supreme sauce, 5 ozs. Gift Package 10.00

SCOTCH WATER. Water from the Spey section famous for its superb blending whiskeys. Bottled for Hammacher Schlemmer in Scotland; recommended as the natural mixer with Scotch. 4 oz. bottles. Case of 24: 12 sparkling, 12 still. 7.75

SNAIL BASKET. Perfect gift. Contains 4 plates, 4 tongs, 4 forks and a package of 24 snail shells and snails. KSA. (3 lbs.) 23.00

HAMMACHER SCHLEMMER GENUINE SMITHFIELD VIRGINIA HAM. This Virginia Ham, slowly cured, hickory-smoked, aged and baked has been prepared in the traditional manner initiated at Smithfield, Virginia in 1840.

Each ham is carefully selected, then packed in salt and placed in a cool cellar for 25 to 45 days, its position being changed frequently. Then the salt is removed and the ham is allowed to mature for three weeks. Next it is coated, thickly, with freshly ground pepper and hung in the smokehouse over smoldering hickory shavings—to hang for some 30 days in the dense pungent hickory smoke. The ham, then a rich mahogany color is brought to the aging room, protected from light where it remains for months. Finally, the ham is soaked for some thirty hours; simmered gently for 3 1/2 hours and its heavy skin removed and the fat trimmed, it is then beautifully glazed with sugar and baked in wine.

It comes to you ready for table. It needs no heating or preparation. Most enjoy it cold, but it may be reheated in various ways.

SYLVANIA SUN BOWL. Now you can enjoy the taste of naturally ripened fruit any time at all. Until now—when you buy semi-ripe fruit sold by your green grocer who is concerned about spoilage—you ripen it on the window sill, and it tastes like that. Natural ripening usually stops when fruit is plucked. Now, let Sun Bowl take over where nature stopped. Have a garden orchard in your home—ripen tomatoes, bananas, grapes, plums, persimmons, melons—almost any fruit, at about a penny a day—to nature-fresh succulence. Have you had a fresh Chinese Gooseberry lately?
